

New High Justices To Dominate Court

JUSTICE PIERCE BUTLER'S DEATH IS SIGNIFICANT

Roosevelt Appointees Will Number Five Of 9 Members

Washington, Nov. 16.—(P)—The death of Associate Justice Pierce Butler signified today the arrival of a new and probably long era in the nation's judicial history in which appointees of President Roosevelt will dominate the supreme court.

When Butler's place has been filled, the present chief executive, with his insistence upon a "liberal" interpretation of the constitution giving the federal government wide authority, will have named five of the tribunal's nine members.

Thus, time has given Mr. Roosevelt what he could not achieve in 1937 through his bill to reorganize the court. For practical purposes, the dispute which racked the country then and ended in the president's first great congressional defeat, has been resolved in Mr. Roosevelt's favor.

Justice Butler was one of the four members of the court, as it was constituted when Mr. Roosevelt took office, who steadfastly voted against major New Deal measures. With the help of one or two other justices they were for a time uniformly successful in killing such enactments as unconstitutional.

McReynolds Remains Standing with him at that time were Associate Justices McReynolds, Sutherland and Van Devanter. Sutherland and Van Devanter have since retired, and Butler's passing means that only one of the old guard—McReynolds—remains on the high bench.

In addition to the retirements of Van Devanter and Sutherland, Associate Justice Brandeis withdrew and Associate Justice Cardozo died. These places Mr. Roosevelt filled with the appointments of Associate Justices Black, Reed, Douglas, and Frankfurter, all believers in Mr. Roosevelt's philosophy of constitutional interpretation.

That Butler's successor would be one of like mind was regarded as a foregone conclusion—with the added expectation that if one such were to be found in the west and were a Catholic the circumstances of the situation would favor his selection. The court at present is heavily overbalanced with easterners. Butler was a westerner (Minnesota), and the court's only Catholic.

However, Mr. Roosevelt, in filling places on the court, has shown little disposition to be guided by sectional considerations, and consequently speculation as to the coming appointment covered a nation-wide list.

Consider Successor
The geographical and religious factors brought Attorney General Frank Murphy, (Catholic, Michigan) and Judge Harold M. Stephens of the court of appeals for the District of Columbia (Catholic, Utah), prominently into the discussion. The sectional consideration alone involved Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general (Wyoming), Circuit Judge William Denham (California), Circuit Judge Sam Brant (New Mexico) and Senators Schwellenbach (Washington) and Minton (Indiana).

Others mentioned included Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson, (New York), Senator Wagner (New York), Donald R. Richberg, Judges Samuel Rosenman and Ferdinand Pecora (New York), Dean Landis of the Harvard Law school, President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, and Dean Lloyd K. Garrison of the University of Wisconsin Law school.

Justice Butler, born 73 years ago in a Minnesota log cabin, died in a hospital here at 4:14 a. m., after a three-month struggle against a bladder ailment. (Continued on Page Ten)

EX-PRESIDENT OF LOUISIANA U. TRIES SUICIDE

Dr. James M. Smith In Serious Condition From Wound

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 16.—(P)—Dr. James Monroe Smith was in serious condition tonight with a wound which Sheriff Newman De Bretton said was a self-inflicted injury before the former Louisiana State University president was to have started a long prison sentence.

Sheriff De Bretton said the 51-year-old educator used a razor blade to sever an artery in his foot in his jail cell here. He was to have been taken to a state prison tomorrow to begin service of an 8-24 year sentence for misuse of university funds.

A jailer, bringing Smith's breakfast at 7:45 a. m., found him weak and bleeding in his cell bathtub. It was believed he had used a blade from his regular shaving equipment to cut the foot while on the bed and then had gotten into the water to ease the pain and prevent clotting.

He was taken to Our Lady of the Lake Sanitarium where he was given intravenous injections tonight. It was in this hospital that Senator Huey P. Long died—after several transfusions—in 1935 from bullet wounds received in the nearby skyscraper capitol.

Barring complications, physicians expected Dr. Smith to recover. After disclosing the cutting, Sheriff De Bretton said another suicide attempt was balked last July when a bottle of poison was intercepted while being smuggled to the prisoner in a bag which contained a carton of ice cream.

A week ago the ruddy-faced Smith, chosen by Long to head L.S.U. during a $13,000,000 building program, expressed a desire to serve out his prison terms and make retribution for his misdeeds that involved use of huge school funds for wheat market plunging.

Three political figures have committed suicide since the scandals broke June 25 when Smith resigned the school presidency and fled to Canada. More than 200 criminal charges have since been made against 86 persons.

In addition to his state sentences, Smith is under three concurrent, 30-month federal sentences for using the mails to defraud and income tax evasion.

Denies Guilty Plea To Accused Slayer

Hillsboro, Ill., Nov. 16.—(P)—Henry Seago, 73-year-old blacksmith-farmer, tried unsuccessfully today to plead guilty to the charge of shooting George W. McNeese, 56, of Litchfield, to death as he sat in his home the night of Oct. 21.

Seago, under indictment for murder as the result of the shooting and held in the county jail without bond, appeared in circuit court today to enter a plea of guilty to the charge.

Judge James J. Burnside declined to take the plea, however, saying he would appoint an attorney for Seago so the case could be given "more consideration."

McNeese was killed by a shotgun blast fired through a window. State's Attorney George A. Hall said Seago admitted shooting McNeese because of a quarrel involving Mrs. Donna Higgins, 40, who lived with the slain man and his wife.

ALLEGED THEFT SUM IN KUHN'S TRIAL 'SLUMPS'

Accountant Admits Error Of $4,000; State Concludes

New York, Nov. 16.—(P)—Acknowledgment of a major error by an important witness—and a consequent sharp scaling down of the amount of money Fritz Kuhn is accused of having stolen from his German-American Bund—was made today by the state as it rested in the Bundstuehrer's larceny trial.

Defense Attorney Peter L. F. Sabatino sought, immediately to show that the Bund's "leadership principle" was such that Kuhn had unlimited power to handle the organization—and its money—as he chose.

He read into the record an application for membership in the Bund ostensibly made by Mrs. Virginia Cogswell, a nine-times-married matron sometimes called the "Georgia Peach."

The paper bore the phrase: "I recognize the leadership principle."

State testimony had pictured Kuhn as having been friendly with Mrs. Cogswell, that he once paid a $50 doctor bill for her, but this was the first indication of any direct connection she had with the Bund itself.

Accounting Error
After recalling Benjamin Blattner, an accountant for District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office, to testify that he had made a miscalculation involving nearly $4,000, the prosecution abandoned its attempt to show that Kuhn had illegally taken $5,641.

Fourth Day Of Manteno Quiz Is Completed

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 16.—(P)—Five witnesses were reported to have told a special Kankakee county grand jury today that conditions were unsanitary and food poor at the Manteno state hospital, where a typhoid epidemic took 52 lives.

The jurors completed the fourth day of their inquiry into the outbreak without giving any indication of when they would conclude hearing testimony. Their duty is to determine whether negligence on the part of authorities was responsible for the epidemic.

Doctor Steinberg
Chief of the day's witnesses was Dr. D. Louis Steinberg, assistant managing officer of the hospital since July 1. Others were Mrs. Mary Burrell, a nurse who worked a month in the hospital during the epidemic; Mrs. Grace Reynolds, a cook at the hospital; Miss Margaret Gilmore, a nurse regularly assigned to the institution, and Dr. O. A. Phillips, a physician at the village of Manteno.

Dr. Steinberg, it was learned, testified he knew nothing of periodic reports that the institution's water supply was contaminated. He came to the hospital 15 days before the first typhoid death occurred.

He said he was friendly with Dr. Ralph T. Hinton, suspended managing officer, but never was acquainted with the hospital chief before joining the staff. Dr. Steinberg was reported to have detailed various phases of his work to the jurors and to have told of the lack of help during the epidemic.

Outlines Study Of Pure Bacteriology

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 16.—(P)—The University of Notre Dame's ten-year study of a program of pure bacteriology which has resulted in the development of a germ-free process was outlined today by Prof. James A. Reyniers of the bacteriology department at a meeting of the nation's leading bacteriologists.

The conference, arranged for a discussion of microorganism and germ-free techniques, also is being attended by architects, engineers, sanitation experts, plant pathologists, medical men and microscopists.

It was pointed out that architects and engineers are particularly interested in the development of germ-free devices in the belief that those things eventually will be a part of every hospital plan which they will be called upon to design and build.

Prof. Reyniers, who has developed the devices for the creation of an artificial world in which life is maintained without any germs, explained at length the development of the machines which are used in the studies.

BIG AND HUNGRY

Morgan City, La., Nov. 16.—(P)—Captain Mattie Vides, brought his shrimp trawler, Lion into port today minus an anchor and solemnly explained:

"A shark struck it. Don't believe it myself but it's true anyway. A big fellow got the anchor as we put it over. Those rats are getting big and hungry in the gulf."

Germany Seeks To Liberate Europe From Britain's Rule

Proclamation Of Offensive Rather Than Defensive War Signals Nazi Attitude To British-French Peace Rejection

Berlin, Nov. 16.—(P)—Germany, an inspired announcement said today, "must liberate Europe from the unbearable yoke of British rule of might."

This proclamation of an offensive rather than a defensive war aim was the Reich's reply to British-French failure to accept King Leopold's and Queen Wilhelmina's mediation offer, authorized sources said.

The statement recalled a remark made by a high-ranking Nazi to newspaper men the week before Germany started her invasion of Poland Sept. 1.

Price For "Meddling"
"If England meddles in our affair with Poland," the Nazi said then, "the price will be destruction of the British empire."

For several weeks no statement of German war aims had been made as specific as that given foreign correspondents today. All German evening papers printed the declaration.

Previously the most said by Adolf Hitler in his Munich speech Nov. 9 when he declared "our aim is the security of our people and our living space in which we will not have anybody else meddle."

The press was unanimous in declaring that British world dominion must be destroyed.

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared England's "proclamation of our destruction as her war aim can, of course, be replied to only in kind."

(A Belgian foreign office spokesman said that German's reply to the Belgian-Netherlands offer was received as "ending this phase of negotiations." He indicated Belgium at present contemplated no new move for peace.)

(The German reply held that Britain and France already had turned the mediation offer down.)

Munitions Loan
As if to show the Reich means business in the war, newspapers announced that the Friedrich Krupp Company of Essen, Germany's largest munitions manufacturer, had floated a $18,000,000 loan for new construction work.

In addition announcement was made that repatriation of Germans from Estonia had been completed and that satisfactory progress was being made in bringing back Germans from Latvia.

WOMAN GIVES BLOOD TO HELP AILING CHILD, 7

Physician, Pathologist Pessimistic Of Cure For Rare Malady

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—(P)—A woman who responded to a mother's nationwide appeal gave her blood today in an effort to save the life of seven-year-old Kathryn Fell, critically ill of an unusual blood disease.

In a 30-minute operation, physicians transfused 100 cubic centimeters of blood from Mrs. Joseph Root, 56-year-old wife of a Westport, Conn., manufacturing executive. She was among more than 100 persons who volunteered aid.

The child has been fighting since last July against lymphatic leukemia—a malady involving a breakdown of the body's blood-making machinery. Physicians have said her case is hopeless, asserting no cure for the disease is known to medical science.

Transfusion Success
Although attending physicians said the transfusion was "effected successfully," they made no comment on whether they believed it would prove beneficial.

Mrs. Root offered to give her blood in the belief she had recovered from lymphatic leukemia with which she thought she was stricken 15 years ago. Prior to the transfusion, however, Dr. Joseph Fleissas, the child's physician, and Dr. Frank Lynch, Germantown hospital pathologist, issued a statement saying that "in light of present day knowledge Mrs. Root's disease was inaccurately diagnosed."

"It is our opinion, as it has been in the beginning," they said, "that there is no known recovery from acute lymphatic leukemia."

They added that the transfusion was given at the insistence of the child's father, a bank clerk. He regarded it as "a last desperate effort" to save the girl's life. It was the 16th transfusion since she became ill.

STARLET'S MOTHER

Hollywood, Nov. 16.—(P)—Starlet Judy Garland's mother, Mrs. Ethel Gumm, and William Gilmore, Santa Paula, Calif., rancher, said they will be married in Yuma, Ariz., tomorrow.

Johnny Rebs To See Premiere

Atlanta, Nov. 16.—(P)—Fears of five "Johnny Rebs" in Georgia's home for Confederate soldiers that they would not see the world premiere of "Gone With the Wind" were banished today. They will be honored guests of Clark Gable.

M. Y. Griggs, who read Margaret Mitchell's 1,037-page novel unaltered, despite his 92 years, is eager to see how closely the picture follows the best-seller. He was in the battle of Atlanta and figures he ought to know the details.

Their eyes dimming, Griggs' comrades had the book read to them by students working on projects of the National Youth Administration.

"You bet we'll be there, uniforms, medals and all," chuckled J. R. Jones, 95, who was with General Joseph E. Johnston when he surrendered to General William Tecumseh Sherman at Durham, N. C.

KILL AT SIGHT, ORDER IN HUNT FOR EX-CONVICT

Patrolmen "Gunning" For Man Who Shot Trooper

Harrisburg, Ill., Nov. 16.—(P)—Superintendent Walter Williams of the Illinois highway police, personally directing a search for a gunman who shot and critically wounded state trooper Cecil Brokmeyer, today ordered patrolmen to "shoot on sight."

Williams said the patrolmen "not going to let a West" escape.

In a 30-minute operation, physicians effected the transfusion of 100 cubic centimeters of blood from Mrs. Joseph Root, 56-year-old wife of a Westport, Conn., manufacturing executive. She was among more than 100 persons who volunteered aid.

The child has been fighting since last July against lymphatic leukemia—a malady involving a breakdown of the body's blood-making machinery. Physicians have said her case is hopeless, asserting no cure for the disease is known to medical science.

GRIDDER'S EXPULSION BRINGS SCHOOL STRIKE

Wickenburg, Ariz., Nov. 16.—(P)—Expulsion of a football player for whistling in study hall so angered 45 Wickenburg high school students today that they staged a sit down strike in front of the building.

Two hours later school officials relented and said the offending whistler, Robert Echeverria, could remain in school. The pupils returned to their classes.

Johnny Rebs To See Premiere

Atlanta, Nov. 16.—(P)—Fears of five "Johnny Rebs" in Georgia's home for Confederate soldiers that they would not see the world premiere of "Gone With the Wind" were banished today. They will be honored guests of Clark Gable.

JURY CONVICTS GMC; ANOTHER SUIT IS BEGUN

Stockholders Action Filed; 17 Officials Acquitted

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 16.—(P)—A jury in federal court here tonight convicted the General Motors Corporation and three subsidiaries of violating the Sherman anti-trust act. The subsidiaries were the General Motors Sales Corporation, General Motors Acceptance Corporation and GMAC of Indiana.

The jury acquitted 17 officials of the firms.

Jurors reported to Special Judge Walter C. Lindley of Danville, Ill., that they had reached a verdict at 8:15 o'clock, 25 hours and 40 minutes after they began deliberations.

The verdict was announced at 8:40. Lawyers and defendants had been summoned to the courtroom in the meantime.

Judge Lindley then adjourned court to 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Officials Acquitted
The officials acquitted were George F. Benkhart, Chevrolet zone manager of New York; M. E. Coyne of Oxford, Mich., vice president of General Motors and general manager of Chevrolet; James C. Deane, August Preis and Nelson C. Dezenford, vice presidents of General Motors in New York; Richard W. Grant of Dayton, O., General Motors vice president in charge of sales; Roy W. Hill, Chevrolet regional manager at Dallas, Tex.; W. E. Holler, Chevrolet sales manager at Birmingham, Mich.; W. F. Hufstader, Buick sales manager at Flint, Mich. (Continued on Page Ten)

British Tanker Sunk In Indian Ocean By Nazis

London, Nov. 16.—(P)—The European war at sea reached the Indian Ocean today with the reported sinking of a British tanker off the east African coast by a German raider.

Dispatches from Capetown, Union of South Africa, told of the raider's attack on the 706-ton Africa Shell and said the captain was taken prisoner. Some reports said a "warship" sank the British vessel but authoritative Capetown circles described the raider as an armed merchantman of about 10,000 tons.

Mozambique Channel
The ship went down 180 miles northeast of Lourenco Marques, Mozambique. This is the Mozambique channel, an arm of the Indian ocean between the Portuguese colony of Mozambique on the East Africa coast and the French island of Madagascar.

The German pocket-battleships, Deutschland and Admiral Scheer, both 10,000-ton warships, have been at sea for months. Some reports have said the Admiral Scheer rounded Cape Horn after operations in the South Atlantic.

The sinking of the Africa Shell was the first report of operations by German raiders in or near the Indian Ocean. In the World War the Indian Ocean became one of the main theaters of operations of such vessels.

Springfield Sees Artillery Parade

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16.—(P)—Like a victorious army returning from battle, the 1934 field artillery of the Illinois National Guard paraded thru Springfield streets today.

Earlier the regiment made up of downstate Illinois companies engaged in the main skirmish of a theoretical battle to defend Springfield from an invading army pounding at the capital's very gates.

This contact occurred along highway Routes 66 and 24 north of Springfield. The artillerymen in theory blew up these highways to halt the advance of the enemy's mechanized units bent on seizing highways and railroads between St. Louis and Indianapolis.

Actually no shots were fired. Participating in the maneuvers too were about 80 men of the 58th brigade headquarters battery, a communication unit from Chicago.

Any officers umpiring the sham battle won't make a report before completion of the maneuvers tomorrow.

YOUTH HAS BAD TIME IN FEDERAL COURT

Kansas City, Nov. 16.—(P)—Norman Sanford, 19, had a bad week in federal court here today.

Each of three district judges sentenced him to prison. The log: Last Friday—15 years by Judge Merrill E. Otis for kidnapping and robbing a filling station operator.

Tuesday—Two years by Judge Albert L. Reeves for auto theft.

Today—Two years by Judge John Caskie Collet for auto theft. The sentences will run consecutively.

THE "LAST" PANDA Chicago Greets Strange Oriental Animal

Chicago, Nov. 16.—(P)—A crowd of several thousand persons turned out today to give a big welcome to a distinguished new citizen—the baby Giant Panda, probably the last of its kind to be allowed to emigrate from its China homeland.

The roly-poly black and white animal clown, which weighs about 80 pounds and is believed to be about a year old, is the gift of the Chicago Daily News to the Brookfield Zoo.

It is hoped by zoo officials that when this as yet unnamed panda grows up it will be a mate for Mel-Mel, the zoo's other panda. But such is the nature of pandas that they have to be several years old before their sex can be learned.

Chaperoned by Roy Scott, St. Louis explorer, the panda was brought from China and traveled by airplane, ship, and streamline train. At a stop-over in Hollywood, it was a stellar attraction.

Well brushed and in merry mood the panda was greeted at the station by a crowd of several thousand.

DR. GORE GETS DEATH PENALTY; ASK NEW TRIAL

Victim's Father Says A Lighter Penalty Satisfactory

Benton, Ill., Nov. 16.—(P)—The father of Carl Cholsier, slain Benton attorney-publisher, said tonight he would have been satisfied with a "less extreme" penalty than the death sentence voted by a jury for the accused killer, Dr. George W. Gore, Sr.

Cholsier's father, Erving Cholsier, and his brother, Steve, were present in the crowded courtroom when the sealed verdict of the jury of 10 men and two women was opened this morning.

In convicting Dr. Gore, the jurors rejected a defense contention that the 65-year-old prominent southern Illinois physician was "emotionally insane" when he shot and killed Cholsier in an alley off the public square last Sept. 25.

Son's Attorney
Conviction of Dr. Gore came a month after his son, George W. Gore, Jr., had been acquitted in the same courtroom of a charge that he shot and killed his stepmother, Mrs. Nancy Gore. At the time he was slain, Cholsier was the attorney for young Gore.

Dr. Gore, testifying in his own defense, said he heard his dead wife scream as Cholsier "started toward me. He had a gun." He said he remembered nothing after that, but recalled telling officers later that he killed Cholsier "to protect myself."

State witnesses testified that the physician stepped from a hiding place and fired four shots into Cholsier's back.

Dr. Gore accepted the jury's verdict without visible emotion but later, in the county jail, the knowledge that he faced the electric chair had a stunning effect and he was reported "taking it hard."

Nealy I. Glenn of defense counsel announced a motion for a new trial would be filed. Formal sentencing will await the action of Circuit Judge Blaine Huffman on the motion.

Dr. Gore was the husband of the former Nancy Threlkeld, who for three years was a nurse at Jacksonville State Hospital. Miss Threlkeld resigned from the local institution's staff in 1932, and went to Benton where she took the position of secretary to Dr. Gore. She married Dr. Gore after his first wife's death.

Mrs. Gore was mysteriously slain when she heard someone near the sleeping porch of the Gore home in Benton. She was shot down when she arose to investigate. Her step-son, George W. Gore Junior, was charged with her murder, but was freed of the charges in a trial which was recently concluded in Benton.

ASKS YACHT TRANSFER TO BRITISH REGISTRY

Washington, Nov. 16.—(P)—Anthony Joseph Drexel, of the Philadelphia and New York social family, asked the maritime commission today to permit the transfer to British registry of his 238-ton steel yacht, Queen of Scots, for use as a hospital ship by the British Red Cross.

His application said the prospective British purchaser was M. Grahame White of Southampton, England.

FRUIT IMPORTS

Washington, Nov. 16.—(P)—The Commerce Department reported today the United Kingdom had prohibited importation, except under license, of fresh apples and pears, pepper and apricot and peach kernels, effective November 20.

POISON RAT LUNCH

Tuscola, Ill., Nov. 16.—(P)—Farm Adviser John R. Scott said today that 80,000 poison rat lunches would be scattered on 270 farms in Douglas county Friday.

IS TECHNICALLY FREE; FEDERAL'S STILL ON CASE

Family Promises He Will Not Go Back To Old Habits

Baltimore, Nov. 16.—(P)—"Scarface" Al Capone, ailing former Chicago gangland chief, entered a hospital here today, technically free after seven years in prison, but actually still under the surveillance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Capone and three members of his family—believed to be his wife, mother and a brother—slipped into Union Memorial Hospital shortly after noon.

A few hours earlier Capone had been delivered at the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., where his formal release was effected.

Capone will be treated for paresis, a form of brain paralysis with which he became afflicted at Alcatraz federal prison, where he served time for violation of the federal income tax laws.

Hospital officials declined to discuss the case but from Washington, Attorney General Murphy said Capone would be here for "at least three weeks" and after his discharge, planned to go to Miami, Fla.

Murphy said Capone and members of his family had assured the justice department that the former gang leader was "going straight and not going to get mixed up in illegal activities."

L. Dixon, Piasa, Is Found Dead in Field

Coroner's Jury Finds Death Due to Heart Trouble; Funeral Friday

Jerseyville.—Leonard Milton Dixon, 68-year-old farmer of Piasa township, was found dead in one of the fields of his farm about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Milo Dixon. An inquest was held by Coroner H. H. Seely Wednesday morning at Jacoby Brothers undertaking establishment in Jerseyville and death was found due to heart trouble.

Mrs. Dixon testified that her husband was in good health Tuesday morning, ate a hearty breakfast and went into the field some distance from the house to harness a team preparatory to shucking corn. When he failed to return at dinner time, Mrs. Dixon became alarmed and a search was instituted for him. He was found by Mrs. Milo Dixon near a fence he had been fixing to keep the hogs in.

A neighbor, Joe Kiel, called the coroner and when he came the body was moved to the Jacoby Brothers undertaking in Jerseyville. It is believed that he had been dead since about 8 o'clock that morning.

The deceased was born Nov. 30, 1869, in Calhoun county, the son of Jacob Dixon and Susan Stone Dixon. He is survived by his wife; three sons, Lee Alfred of Batchtown, William Jacob of Golden Eagle, and Milo D. who resided with his parents; one daughter, Mrs. Ruby Hester Fuller of Batchtown; one brother, Perry Dixon of St. Louis; three sisters, Mrs. Emma Blumberg of Hamburg, Mrs. Annie Boucher of Hamburg, and Mrs. Della Fischer of St. Louis, and five grandchildren, Marvin Dixon, Eldon and Helen Fuller of Batchtown, and Orville, Billy, and Byron Dixon of Golden Eagle.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, Nov. 17, at 1:30 o'clock from the Batchtown Methodist Episcopal church, and interment will be in Wilson cemetery.

RAP AUTO FINANCING AT ACCESSORIES MEET

Washington, Nov. 16. — (AP) — A charge that "evils amounting to scandal exist in the financing of automobiles and automobile accessories" was presented today to the American Automobile Association, opening its 37th annual convention.

"While practically every other agency dealing in money—small loan companies, banks, insurance companies, stock brokers and others—is subject to careful regulation, the business of financing automobiles is practically unregulated except in a few states," the committee on automobile financing reported. It recommended further study of financing methods with a view to obtaining corrective legislation.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Creomulsion goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

P. T. A. Health Meet To Be Held Dec. 7-8

Many Top Ranking Health
Experts to Appear
On Program

Announcement has come to the Parent-Teacher association of completed plans for the State Health Conference, to be held in Springfield, December 7 and 8. An excellent program on subjects of current importance has been arranged.

More than a dozen guest speakers from the top rank public health authorities have been engaged for the occasion. Health education, school health service, prenatal and infant hygiene, mental health, sight conservation, public relations of health officers, nursing service, serology in syphilis, milk sanitation, the federal health program, laboratory problems, the hygienic marriage law and tuberculosis are among the subjects on the program, which will be discussed.

The meeting promises to be the most important public health event of the year in Illinois. Health officers, public health nurses and all interested in public health are invited to attend.

League Will Study Means of Reducing Taxes at Meeting

Local Group Will Hear Tax
Analyst at Gathering
This Evening

Substantial and permanent reduction of Morgan County's public expenditures will be the goal of a program to be launched this evening by the newly-organized Tax Reducers' League of Morgan County.

Frank J. Arnold, famous Nebraska authority on governmental economy, will be the principal speaker at the league's inaugural dinner meeting at the Dunlap Hotel. C. L. Rice, president of the Jacksonville Real Estate Board, will preside. Mr. Rice commented:

"The procedure which Mr. Arnold has made famous, and which our Jacksonville group will use, has brought phenomenal savings, not only in Nebraska, but in all parts of the country. It has been acclaimed by national magazines and by newspapers from coast to coast.

"The keystone of the plan is a complete study of the expenditures of local taxing bodies to show exactly where savings can be made.

"Here in our own state of Illinois—at Joliet—the Will County Civic League has just announced that reductions of $177,000 have been achieved in a single year, in cooperation with the officials of three local taxing units."

He called attention, also, to Hammond, in the neighboring state of Indiana, where citizens organized last July and made a study of their school and city costs. They then used the facts which they had assembled to recommend specific economies.

"And now," Mr. Rice continued, "they have had the satisfaction of seeing the County Tax Adjustment Board slash the local budgets $283,000 below what was originally proposed."

Judge Enters Six
Orders at Session

Grants One Divorce And Hears Evidence on Will Case Thursday A. M.

Judge Walter Wright entered six orders at a session of the Morgan county circuit court Thursday morning. He granted one divorce and heard evidence on a stipulation involved in a will contest suit.

The will contest suit, appealed from the county court, involved the petition to probate the purported last testament of Alfred G. Foster. Judge Wright took the case under advisement.

The divorce was granted to Ruth Rousey Garrett from George A. Garrett, on the grounds of extreme and repeated cruelty. The decree permitted the plaintiff to resume the use of her maiden name.

Two cases were settled, representations for Louis Nierman and Ray Ronnell agreeing that a judgment of $500 be entered against the defendant and in favor of the plaintiff, and the plaintiff in the suit brought by Louis G. Boston through Zelda D. Boston, his best friend, withdrawing the action against Ramon Burnett. The Nierman-Ronnell suit was the result of an automobile accident.

The case appealed from the justice court brought by Dale Rose against George B. Herrick was continued on an agreement made by the counsel representing the two persons and the complaint filed by Eugene Flood against Harry W. Foster as conservator of the estate of Alfred G. Foster, and others was ordered turned over to the master in chancery to obtain evidence.

Decorations This Year Will Be Novel, Brilliant,
Merchants Say

At a meeting of the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce called Wednesday by the chairman, Carl Gebhardt, it was decided to erect this year elaborate decorations for the Christmas season. It was also decided to invite Santa Claus to visit Jacksonville sometime during the Christmas trade season, the date to be announced later.

Decorations will consist of lighted ornaments for the streets, seventy-eight of which will be attached to the ornamental lamp posts around the square and along the principal streets of the business district.

Each decoration will consist of a five-foot Masonite arm extending out from the pole and carrying three metal candles with lights, along with interspersing neon tubes. In Central park four Christmas trees will be erected and lighted.

The light pole decorations are something new for Jacksonville and are being provided for permanent use at the Christmas season. It will be possible to add to the system as more decorations are needed.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Five Point Club
Meets This Week
The Five Point club held its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Mildred Biggs, 504 Hardin avenue. Mrs. Idabelle Reynolds presided over the business session, after which four tables of bridge were put in play.

The carry prize went to Mrs. Marian Summers, high to Mrs. Fern Coulton and low to Mrs. Crit Haneline. The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. Joy Goin, 1329 Mound avenue.

Miss Colton to Speak
At MacMurray Luncheon
A special feature of the MacMurray college alumnae luncheon which will be held at the Hub in Ann Rutledge, Saturday, Nov. 18, at 1 p.m. will be a talk by Miss Idabelle Colton on her recent European experiences. President and Mrs. McClelland, who have just returned from California, will bring greetings from many alumnae whom they met while traveling in the western states.

Mrs. Clarendon Smith, chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the luncheon, will preside.

The program will be concluded in time to permit the guests to attend the Army-Navy hockey game which will be played on the athletic field.

Mrs. Mary Holmes Gives
Program at Poetry Group
Modern Poetry Group met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Clara Owings Black, 112 Park street. Miss Mabel Goltra presided and each member responded to roll call with "Couplets."

Mention was made of two recent broadcasts by Ted Malone, of Phillip Frenau, a poet and printer of the Revolutionary War period, given from his old home Malawan, New Jersey; and Joyce Kilmer, a World War poet from his home in New Brunswick, New Jersey. His home is now owned by the American Legion.

Mrs. Mary Holmes chose as the poets for her discussion, W. S. Gilbert and Madison Cawein. She read "Bab Ballads" by W. S. Gilbert, whose poems were used chiefly in operas in connection with Sullivan. The best known being, "Patience," "Utopia Limited," "H.M.S. Pinafore," "The Pirates of Penzance," "The Gondolier," and the "Mikado." Madison Cawein is known as the Kentucky Keats. His poems were upon nature and humanity. Mrs. Holmes read selections from "Creek Road," and "Man Hunt."

Speaker Opposes Lower Tariff For S. American Goods

Says U. S. is Buying Friendship of Argentine at Expense of Farmers

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Fred Brenckman, Washington legislative representative of the National Grange, told the organization's 73rd annual convention today "it looks as if we

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause sagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of sleep and energy, swelling up, night sweats, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

were going to buy Argentina's "friendship at the cost of the American farmer."

Discussing the pending reciprocal trade treaty with Argentina, Brenckman contended there was no sound economic reason for reducing tariffs on products coming into the United States from the South American nation.

Brenckman, speaking to Grange delegates representing more than 800,000 farm folk, declared a diplomatic or political motive lay behind the treaty.

"Argentina has been traditionally unfriendly to the attitude of this country that it is the guardian of the western hemisphere under the Monroe Doctrine," he said. "In order to maintain the policy which makes us the protector of the two Americas and the democratic form of government, it is desirable that we should have the support and friendship of the Argentine, x x x."

"Under the Argentine agreement, it inevitably follows that the American farmer will to an increasing extent lose the domestic market and will be compelled to accept lower prices for the products involved. There will be more farm mortgage foreclosures, and there will be an increased number of farm owners who will be reduced to the tenant class, or will be driven into the ranks of relief workers."

Brenckman also expressed dissatisfaction with the working of the British reciprocal trade agreement which became operative last January with Britain at war. "Approximately 90 per cent of the American products on which tariff concessions were made by Great Britain are on the prohibited list," he said.

Nurse Who Received Many War Medals Dies in Pittsburgh

Complications Following An Operation Cause Death; Kept Medals Hid

Pittsburgh, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Complications following an operation claimed the life of Nurse Minette De Lozier who hid herself so well after heroic World War service that the French government hunted 17 years to award her the Croix De Guerre.

Death occurred yesterday in the quietest of her home where the modest Miss De Lozier—she wouldn't disclose her age—kept out of sight the many medals bestowed by the French and American governments for devotion to duty.

The nurse who once made a batch of candy for General John J. Pershing on the battlefields of France had to hunt for her awards if she could be persuaded to show them. She liked best the Victory medal designating service in five major battles of the war with one of the most active Red Cross units at the front.

Asked how she won so many medals, Miss De Lozier replied "Well, I guess it was just for long hours under fire. Sometimes we worked 74 to 76 hours straight through."

No Consolidation Of Relief Agencies At Special Session

Believes Such Legislation Should Be Taken Up In 1941 Meeting

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Governor Horner has decided against any attempt in a special session of the legislature to establish a new state department to administer relief and all other public assistance.

Although the legislative council announced today it would consider his subject in a meeting Nov. 20, the chief executive said he believed legislation to merge assistance should wait until the 1941 regular session of the General Assembly.

The governor said he favored the program, recently advocated by Chairman Neil H. Jacoby of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, to consolidate relief and pension agencies that spend approximately $100,000,000 annually in this state.

6 "EXTRA" HELPS quickly relieve DISTRESS OF CHILDREN'S COUGHS AND COLDS

DON'T "take chances" with unknown products to relieve discomfort of your child's spasmodic croupy coughs caused by colds. Use "Children's" Mustero! Mustero! gives such QUICK relief because it's not "just an ordinary salve." Rub it well on your kiddie's chest, throat and back. It soothes and stimulates surface circulation and helps break up local congestion and pain. Its soothing vapors ease breathing. 40¢. Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau.

Blueboys Will End '39 Football Card In Game Saturday

I. C. Gridders Meet Rose Polytech As Finale To Pigskin Season

The Illinois College Blueboys will ring down the curtain on another Jacksonville gridiron season when they meet Rose Polytech of Terre Haute, Indiana, in a game on the I. C. field Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m.

Besides closing the '39 Blueboy card and the Jacksonville season, the grid conflict will honor the Dads of the players. A special Dads' Day ceremony will take place on the field during the half intermission.

Though not a championship year for the Blueboys, or an undefeated season, the closing schedule has been one of the most successful in past years, considering the situation from all angles. Until the last couple of weeks, the I. C. football coach, Alf Lamb, held a charm over the purveyor of injuries among the pigskin ranks. Captain Keith Peabody and two of his fellow freshmen, Jim "Dix" Thompson and Henry Kustanski were on the sidelines for a game with slight injuries, but all were shipshape for the rest of the season, with the exception of Thompson who had a shoulder injury keeping him out of a second game.

The Blueboys eleven dropped but one game during the year, that being a 7-10 defeat in a wildcat game with Hanover College of Hanover, Ind. They spoiled their chances for a clean slate in Illinois College Conference games when they fought to a scoreless tie with Wheaton college in their only tie match of the year. All of the other games, with Quincy, Carthage, Elmhurst, Parsons, Millikin and McKendree, have gone down on the win side of the college ledgers.

The final game Saturday here should prove to be among the toughest battles of the year for the line of blue with the Rose Polytech school sending over a heavy team which has captured a majority of their games this year.

Rose Poly turned back the only team to conquer the Blueboys this season when they defeated Hanover last Saturday, 18 to 6. Chief among the Rose Poly techniques is its versatile offensive work, the plays starting from any of a series of backfield formations and developing into aerial work, speedy end runs, or forceful

To Play Last For I. C. Saturday

Frank Cooper, an Illinois College student hailing from Litchfield, donned his first football togs in an I. C. gridiron contest four years ago. This Saturday, in the game with Rose Polytech on the college field, Cooper will play his last game for the school.

Halfback Cooper lacked the opportunity for gridiron efforts during his high school years and has accumulated all of his substantial fund of pigskin technique since entering I. C. He has developed into one of Coach Alf Lamb's best blocking backs in the past few years.

line plunges. They are led by Brittenbach, 135 pound running half back, and passer Michaels.

GALENTOS' EYE
Orange, N. J., Nov. 16.—(P)—Tony Galeoto finally has spoken in an effort to clear the air of rumors about his injured eye.

Confronted as he drove up to his home yesterday, the pudgy heavyweight boxer denied various reports he underwent an eye operation and said a hemorrhage that occurred in his right eye after the Lou Nova fight cleared up and no operation was necessary.

He explained absence from his tavern by saying he wished to take no chances of hurting his eye "in a roughhouse" at the bar.

Arkansas Back Has Best Ground Gaining Record for Season

Gets 1,021 Yards Despite Playing on Losing Team; Two Others Close

Seattle, Nov. 16.—(P)—Kay Eakin of Arkansas, the hardest working back in the nation, ranked Number One this week as the country's foremost passer and ground-gainer, but a couple of All-American prospects were right on his heels.

The American Football Statistical Bureau's records showed today that in eight games, Eakin, despite playing with a losing club which has won two lost five and tied one, letted 1,021 yards from both passes and scrimmage.

Eakin leads also in the number of pass completions, hitting the target 62 times in 149 attempts, with 14 interceptions.

The two All-American candidates, Tom Harmon of Michigan and Paul "Dizzy Dean" Christian of Missouri, rank right behind Eakin in all-around yardage consumption.

Harmon in six games gained 907 yards and ranks first in average yardage per game with 151.2. He also leads in average gain per play with 7.64.

Christian is third in net yardage gained with 899, and second in pass completions with 53 of 110 in seven games, good for 632 yards. He had nine interceptions.

Johnny Knolla of Creighton, last week's all-around leader, was idle and dropped to fourth, his total still standing at 887 yards. Others in the top ten:

- (5) Jim "Sweet" Lalanee, North Carolina, tied with Knolla at 887 in eight games; (6) Grunmy Lansdell, U.S.C., 853 yards in six games—the more remarkable because Lansdell shares offensive duties with two other quarterbacks; (7) Kenny Washington, U.C.L.A., second last week but idle, 843 yards in six games; (8) Banks McFadden, Clemson, 836 in seven games; (9) Nile Kinnick, Iowa All-American candidate, 795 in six games, and (10) Ernie Lain, Rice, 762 in seven games.

The bureau's figures show oddly enough, that although Kinnick got the seven points that tumbled Notre Dame from the undefeated ranks last week, the Iowa flash played his poorest game of the year—statistically.

THANK OFFERING AT NORTHMINSTER

Sunday morning at 10:45 Worship service, Northminster Presbyterian church will observe Thank-offering Day. At this service a free-will offering is received. This unique service was inaugurated about thirty years ago.

Soon after the erection of the church building, the indebtedness weighed heavy on the shoulders of the congregation. A movement was started to set aside a day when a free-will offering would be received. This met with instant approval, and the day was known as Thousand Dollar Day. In a very short time the whole of the indebtedness was paid off; but the congregation continued the custom, in order to meet special obligations of the church.

This year there are some changes to be made in the interior, and plans for decoration are in the offing; therefore the membership is desirous of a generous response this year.

In the Loyalty campaign which is being observed this month the day is also known as Enlistment Sunday. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

SEND FIRST PART OF "J" TO ENGRAVER

The first pages of the 1940 high school annual, the Crimson "J," were sent to the engraver Wednesday, Miss Louise Sheppard, publication adviser, announced. The consignment included pictures of the faculty, all four classes, and various clubs, and one snapshot page, Miss Sheppard said.

Meantime, the sales campaign is progressing nicely according to a statement by Bob Allan, sales manager. The senior class has subscribed to the annual 100%, Allan said, and the total subscription to date numbers 780. Jean Drury is the assistant sales manager.

Bill Randall, advertising manager, has already exceeded the last year's sale of ads, Miss Sheppard stated.

NURSE AND BROTHER HONORED AT DINNER

Ashland--Miss Rita Wankel, a student nurse at Our Saviour's hospital, and her brother, Raymond, were honored Sunday at a duck dinner at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wankel, near this city. Two birthday anniversary cakes were included in the menu.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fitzpatrick of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wankel and son Donald, Miss Jennie Mullens, Russell Smith, Ward Petefish, and the guests of honor.

CALLED TO MISSOURI

George and Joe Wheeler, of this city have been notified of the serious illness of their cousin, Mrs. Sol Combe, of Louisiana, Mo.

RED CROSS WORKERS AID IN BRAILLE WORK

Red Cross volunteers during the past year produced 720,000 pages of Braille reading matter for the blind. Everyone can assist in making this work possible and providing for its normal growth by joining the local Red Cross chapter during the annual roll call, extending from November 11 to 30.

The Federation of Women's clubs asks all members to do their bit, as announced in the official organ, the Illinois Federation News, recently received by local units.

Business Women's Club Receives 14 Into Membership

Initiation Service Held At Meeting; Mrs. Applebee Tells of Federation

Fourteen new members were welcomed at the regular meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club Thursday evening at the Peacock Inn. After the supper served at 6:15 o'clock the meeting was opened by Miss Opal Tillman president of the club.

Miss Tillman spoke of the work and aims of the organization, and according to the theme of the National Federation in keeping with the season of Thanksgiving, read the Thanksgiving Credo for Business and Professional Women.

"Why I am thankful. Because I am an American Citizen. Because I live in a democracy where freedom of religion, speech, press and radio are prerogative of all. Because in a democracy, women are safe, safe to work, to live and to serve as their spirit dictates."

Miss Grace Tickle, membership chairman, presided during the program, introducing the committee and presented Mrs. Alice W. Applebee, state president, who conducted the initiation service and pledge. Mrs. Applebee spoke of the purpose of the Federation and that of the local club.

to bring fellowship to each member and programs of true worth, which meant growth in education, health, social and political life, an organization with a national membership of over 71,000 in the United States, Hawaii and Alaska. She then presented a rose to each new member and led in the pledge.

New members included, Mrs. Myrtle Anderson, Mrs. Vera Armin, Miss Annabel Crum, Miss Rita Dixon, Miss Betty Lee Dunaven, Mrs. Jean K. Lane, Mrs. Dorothea B. McCurdy, Miss Georgine McDonald, Miss Maurine Rodhouse, Miss Peggy Sullivan, Miss Mabel Walter, Miss Dorothy Whitaker, Miss Mary Lucille Winans, Mrs. Vera Massey, re-instated.

Reviews History
Miss Mary Postlewait, state corresponding secretary, gave the history of the National Federation in a brief resume. Miss Postlewait recalled the fact that the organization was founded after the World War, when it was found that the government could not make available records concerning business women and through the efforts of a young attorney, Lena Madson Phillips, now International President, the National Federation was founded in 1919, and today is the largest organization of Business and Professional women in the world.

The exemplification of the emblem was impressively carried out by members of the membership committee, as Miss Vera Mathieu read the symbolism in the Golden Circle. "Our Emblem abounds in energy. Every one of its symbols betokens life, motion or poise for action."

Those taking part were: Miss Edna Walsh, "Torch"; Miss Lita Luebbers, "Wand"; Miss Fern Halgh, "Sword"; Miss Etha Sontag, "Ship of Commerce"; Mrs. Marie Douglas, "Nike." The beautiful ceremony closed with the Emblem song given by the Choral club. Attractive booklets of the evening's program were souvenirs at each place on the table.

During the business session a letter was read by Mrs. Rogerson from Miss Helen Keller, expressing her appreciation to the club for courtesies received while in Jacksonville. It was voted to have the letter framed. Miss Matha Mason chairman of the finance committee announced that the recent benefit bridge was very successful.

Issue Year Book
The new year books for the club were distributed to the members at the meeting and were received by appreciation. Mrs. Lillian I. Danskin is the year book chairman and Dr. Mary Louise Newman, program chairman. The next meeting will be held December 7, and the supper committee will include, Mrs. Marie Douglas, Miss Grace Fitch and Miss Pauline Criswell.

Preceding the business session Ned Donahoe, director of the Illinois Theater group, presented a portion of the coming production, "Our Town."

The music given during the program by the choral club was a delightful feature. The club is directed by Miss Lorraine Dewese and is composed of Miss Helen Watson, Miss Fern Halgh, Miss Lillian Carter, Miss Mary Clamplitt, Miss Barbara Harty, Miss Lucille Winans, Miss Opal Tillman.

The supper committee for the meeting included Mrs. Bert Cole, Miss Lorraine Dewese and Miss Esther Carlson.

Portland Couples Arrive For Visit

Former Residents Guests At Brune and Henze Homes After Eastern Tour

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kuschnick and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Small of Portland, Oregon, arrived yesterday by automobile, for a visit with Jacksonville relatives. They are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Brune and Mr. and Mrs. C. Henze.

Mrs. Kuschnick is the former Martha Linderman, who was a sales woman at Wadell's store more than 20 years ago. This is her first visit back to Jacksonville in 15 years. Mrs. Small is the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. C. Henze.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuschnick accompanied their son, Raymond, to Baltimore, Md., where he will enter civil service in the Social Security Board. The party then went to New York and Bridgeport, Conn., where Mrs. Small visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Austin and son Clifford. Mrs. Austin is the former Bernice Henze.

During the time the Smalls were in Bridgeport, Mr. and Mrs. Kuschnick visited her mother and other relatives at Wilkes Barre, Penn. The party then joined, going to Niagara Falls and Chicago, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hagek and daughter Deloris. Mrs. Hagek being the former Emily Nobis of Arenzville and Jacksonville. Enroute to Jacksonville they stopped at Madison, Wis., to call on Mrs. Herbert Seely, formerly Miss Laura Brune.

The Oregon couples bring greetings from several former Jacksonville residents now in Portland, including Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kuykendall, Mrs. Redner and daughter, Viola; Mrs. Frank Corcoran, formerly Miss Tillie Allen, and others.

H. J. Klingler, Pontiac general manager, William S. Knudsen of Detroit, president of General Motors; Russell Lasher, Oldsmobile zone manager at Minneapolis; Ralph W. Moore, General Motors Acceptance Corporation branch manager at Chicago; W. J. Mougey, Pontiac zone manager at Chicago; John J. Schumann, Jr., of New York, president of GMAC; Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., of New York, chairman of General Motors board of directors, and G. I. Smith, Chevrolet regional manager at Chicago.

Installment Sales
The defendants were charged with conspiring to monopolize installment sales financing of automobiles by coercing General Motors dealers to use General Motors Acceptance Corporation facilities.

Harold Geyer of Lakeville, Ind., foreman of the jury declined to say how many ballots were taken but insisted the jurors "got along very nicely."

New York Nov. 16.—(P)—Powerful figures in finance were named today in a federal court suit against the General Motors Corporation and 34 officers and directors which alleged $155,000,000 had been "misappropriated, stockholders' suit, brought by Charles E. Singer, holder of 1,400 shares of General Motors common, asserted the alleged waste had resulted from bonuses and stock deals between 1930 and 1938.

Among the defendants named were Julius S. Morgan, Jr., John J. Egan, Owen D. Young, William S. Knudsen, Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., Charles P. Kettering and Irene DuPont.

Claim Shares Loss
Singer asked that the defendants be enjoined temporarily from continuing the alleged acts and claimed that a loss of 216,000 shares of General Motors common stock had resulted from operations of General Motors, Inc., successor to an affiliate known as Motors Management Corporation, which included the establishment of bonus award funds. The stock involved, claimed, had a value in excess of the amount indicated.

The complaint claimed that under an agreement dated March 12, 1930, the directors of General Motors Corporation, or caused to be organized, the Management Corporation with an authorized common stock of 50,000 shares and a capitalization of $10,500,000.

Senior executives of General Motors, the complaint continued, acquired 38,800 shares of common stock for $3,880,000 and for each share of Management Corporation stock held were allocated "two and a half shares of General Motors common, fully paid at $40 a share."

The complaint further charged that organization of the Management Corporation was to enable some of the defendants to acquire large stockholdings, and was a "scheme to enable General Motors executives to speculate with General Motors stock so that General Motors would suffer all losses while the profits accrued in the event the stock increased in value, were to be divided among the participants."

FATHER AND TWO SONS BOAST 3 OIL GUSHERS

Artella, N. M., Nov. 16.—(P)—Oilman Martin Yates, Jr., rushed into his office.

"Where's St. Clair?" he shouted. "The son appeared." "Where's Martin?" they chorused. "Where's the Martin?" They belated to the office wall.

"I've got a gusher," Martin III exclaimed. "The three wells came in within a few hours. The boys well were flowing wild with no estimate of production; Dad's is a 1000 barrel one."

ment. He had served on the court since 1922, when he was appointed by President Harding, and participated in many of its momentous decisions.

Loved To Play Golf
A big man, with a round ruddy face, thin fuzzy hair and piercing blue eyes, he was much esteemed for his good humor and penchant genial story telling. He loved to play golf.

His death brought from his old adversary, President Roosevelt, a formal statement of regret and a personal note to Mrs. Butler saying he had always regarded the justice as a "personal friend" and adding that: "His undoubtedly great ability, his complete frankness in the expression of his philosophy and his honest convictions commanded my respect, and in common with his many friends, I sincerely regret his untimely passing."

When the supreme court met at noon, Chief Justice Hughes solemnly announced Butler's death and the court, in respect, adjourned until next Wednesday.

Justice Butler is survived by his widow and the following children: Pierce Butler, Jr., William Butler, Francis Butler, all of St. Paul, Minn.; Leo Butler and Miss Margaret Butler of this city, and Mrs. Edward K. Dunn of Baltimore.

ALLEGED THEFT SUM IN KUNN'S TRIAL 'SLUMPS'

show the total was $1,891. This divided: $674 claimed to have been misappropriated from the Bund's "legal defense fund"; $500 ostensibly (but says the state, not actually paid) an attorney for legal services; $717 which the middle-aged Kuhn spent in moving the furniture of a woman friend, Mrs. Florence Camp.

Blattner explained that it was in connection with the defense fund that he had made his error in representing the condition of the Bund's books to the jury. He added that he had erroneously considered certain sums to have been in fact paid in as dues and for other purposes.

At these admissions, and because of his avowed objection to the manner in which Judge James G. Wallace participated in the examination of witnesses, Peter L. F. Sabatino, defense counsel, asked that the indictment be dismissed or, alternatively, that a directed acquittal be given.

Judge Wallace, saying he thought the jury must determine whether Kuhn had the legal right to dispose of Bund funds as he saw fit, denied all Sabatino's motions, but announced that he might renew them at the conclusion of defense testimony.

Late in the day Sabatino said he expected to call District Attorney Dewey and Assistant District Attorney Milton Schilback to the stand to testify for the defense tomorrow. He did not disclose what the nature of his examination would be.

Iowa's "Favorite Son" Backing FDR

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 16.—(P)—Senator Clyde L. Herring (D-Ia.), once mentioned as a possible "favorite son" candidate for president in the 1940 election, today predicted that Franklin D. Roosevelt will be renominated and re-elected.

"It must be recognized that the president is perhaps the only Democrat certain to carry many states like Iowa, which have formerly been heavily Republican," the senator said in a statement here.

The senator qualified his prediction by saying peace in Europe "and a radical change in conditions in this country" between now and the Democratic national convention might deflate the third term boom. Either development, however, is unlikely, he said.

AUCTIONEER MAKES A "SLIGHT MISTAKE"

Quincy, Mass., Nov. 16.—(P)—Everything went smoothly at the auction of a house—that is, until its owners for 18 years came home.

The auctioneer posted his red flag on the veranda yesterday, collected a crowd, and knocked down the establishment to the highest bidder. Then Mr. and Mrs. Norman Godwin arrived, protesting they had owned the place for 18 years and that there must be some mistake.

They were right. The auctioneer had been assigned to sell the house next door, empty for a year.

Hertha Glatz Guest Speaker At College Thursday Evening

Speaks at Meeting of Music Majors of MacMurray; Concert Tonight

Hertha Glatz, brilliant young Viennese contralto who will appear as the second artist upon the MacMurray College Community concert series which will be held in the high school auditorium this evening at 8:15 o'clock, arrived in Jacksonville Thursday evening in time to meet the music majors of the college who had met to speak briefly before the music majors of the college who had met to hear Joseph C. Cleveland, director of the MacMurray Conservatory describe the selections that will be sung by Miss Glatz on her concert this evening.

When questioned about her present tour Miss Glatz pointed out that she had just come from San Francisco where she had presented a concert with Kirsten Flagstad. Her present trip includes several other colleges such as St. Olaf, Northfield, Minn.; Ball College, Muncie, Ind.; and Wittenburg College at Springfield, Ohio.

The record of Miss Glatz of performing 300 opera performances during a single season probably stands today as a world record. Miss Glatz said that this singing tour took place when she was only 18 years old. She had just made her debut at the State Opera in Breslau, when although she was professionally a novice she had at her command 35 different roles. The night after her debut she was asked to fill in for a singer who was ill. The following day she again met an emergency. She twice was asked to sing as often as twice daily. Not only did she sing in the traditional operas such as the Ring, "Aida" and the like, but also in the difficult modern operas of Krenek and Hindemith.

Her accompanist, Franz Rupp, indicated praise for Miss Glatz when he described the press notices she received in her recent appearance in San Francisco. He pointed out that although Miss Glatz is a young artist that she has made recordings for Victor in Italian, French, German, Russian, and English. In addition she sings in Spanish, and on a recent visit to Havana, Cuba, her Spanish singing was so perfect that her admirers crowded to the stage door to converse with her in Spanish.

In discussing the things about America that interest her most Miss Glatz pointed out the corner drug store. "In Europe we have nothing like your drug stores, where, if you are alone and in a hurry, you can have your breakfast or dinner in a hurry. In Europe you wait and wait. Grapefruit is very expensive in Europe, she went on, and they aren't as good as big, but maybe that's because one eats them in different political climates. And lastly your American soft drinks are wonderful."

Miss Glatz likes the United States and there is nothing forced or tentative about her liking. "When I first came to this country in March, 1937, for a short tour I said to myself: 'This will be my home forever.' Since I returned to this country two years ago I have decided to become a citizen. In the last two years I have toured all over the United States—north, south, east, west—here and in Canada. This country seems to be one of the few left where people can speak, feel or act just as they wish to."

CIO Rejects Offer In Chrysler Tie-Up

Detroit, Nov. 16.—(P)—The CIO United Automobile Workers, engaged in a prolonged contract dispute which has made 58,000 Chrysler employees idle rejected today a corporation offer to restate its 1933 employee representation plan.

That plan provided compulsory arbitration as a final step in grievance procedure, which is one of the union demands in the current dispute.

Richard T. Frankenstein, UAW-CIO Chrysler director, told a CIO mass meeting yesterday that the union would accept the 1933 arbitration clause and contended that Chrysler's refusal to agree to arbitration now showed the corporation's policy on labor relations had changed.

Today Herman L. Weckler, Chrysler vice-president in charge of operations, said the corporation was willing to put the 1933 representation plan into effect in its entry but not piecemeal.

Frankenstein said the union would accept only the arbitration provisions.

Handel's Messiah Will Be Presented

Mrs. Helen Brown Read Will Again Direct Choir In Rendition Dec. 24

Mrs. Helen Brown Read, director of the Jacksonville Choir, has announced that on the afternoon of December 24, at 4 o'clock in Music Hall, MacMurray college, the choir will present Handel's Messiah. The public is cordially invited.

This will be the eighth annual performance and it will be given a splendid rendition this year by a talented group of musicians. The date lends itself peculiarly well to the immortal Christmas music of this great oratorio. The choir has brought to Jacksonville added beauty to the Christmas season and the members have cheerfully worked together without compensation, except to bring presentation with its inspiration to the community.

The soloists and personnel will be announced with the complete program.

Cooperative Credit Lauded For Farmer

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 16.—(P)—Albert S. Goss, federal land bank commissioner, said today that American farmers must maintain their cooperative credit system if they are to continue getting the cheapest credit in the world.

Commissioner Goss, addressing the 73rd National Grange convention, said he saw two dangers threatening agricultural credit. The first, he said, was that the cooperative features of the system might be destroyed and the other was that the ability to obtain credit might be impaired.

Under the cooperative system, a farmer borrower must become a member and stockholder in the cooperative bank making the loan.

Goss said there was substantial movement on foot to abolish the cooperative system and substitute direct control and ownership by the government. He asserted it would be shortsighted policy to turn away from the cooperative system which farmers can control and depend on the direction of congress.

EDUCATION ASSIGNED PROBLEM FOR PEACE

St. Louis, Nov. 16.—(P)—Missouri teachers attending the annual state convention here were told today the profession of education had been assigned the task of keeping down war psychology which might lead the United States into the present conflict in Europe.

The force of education, asserted Dean William F. Russell of Teachers College, Columbia University, New York, is the principal countervailing agency against the forces of imbalance as currently depicted by the war between Germany and Great Britain and France.

In modern times, he said, education is necessary to prevent the happy mean of democracy from swinging to mob rule on one side or to dictatorship on the other.

New High Justices To Dominate Court

JUSTICE PIERCE BUTLER'S DEATH IS SIGNIFICANT

Roosevelt Appointees
Will Number Five
Of 9 Members

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The death of Associate Justice Pierce Butler signified today the arrival of a new and probably long era in the nation's judicial history in which appointees of President Roosevelt will dominate the supreme court.

When Butler's place has been filled, the present chief executive, with his insistence upon a "liberal" interpretation of the constitution giving the federal government wide authority, will have named five of the tribunal's nine members.

Thus, time has given Mr. Roosevelt what he could not achieve in 1937 through his bill to reorganize the court. For practical purposes, the dispute which raked the country then and ended in the president's first great congressional defeat, has been resolved in Mr. Roosevelt's favor.

Justice Butler was one of the four members of the court, as it was constituted when Mr. Roosevelt took office, who steadfastly voted against major New Deal measures. With the help of one or two other justices they were for a time uniformly successful in killing such enactments as unconstitutional.

McReynolds Remains
Standing with him at that time were Associate Justices McReynolds, Sutherland and Van Devanter. Sutherland and Van Devanter have since retired, and Butler's passing means that only one of the old group—McReynolds—remains on the high bench.

In addition to the retirements of Van Devanter and Sutherland, Associate Justice Brandeis withdrew, and Associate Justice Cardozo died. These places Mr. Roosevelt filled with the appointments of Associate Justices Black, Reed, Douglas, and Frankfurter, all believers in Mr. Roosevelt's philosophy of constitutional interpretation.

That Butler's successor would be one of like mind was regarded as a foregone conclusion—with the added expectation that if one such were to be found in the west and were a Catholic the circumstances of the situation would favor his selection. The court at present is heavily overbalanced with easterners. Butler was a westerner (Minnesota), and the court's only Catholic.

However, Mr. Roosevelt, in filling places on the court, has shown little disposition to be guided by sectional considerations, and consequently speculation as to the coming appointment covered a nation-wide list.

Consider Successor
The geographical and religious factors brought Attorney General Frank Murphy, (Catholic, Michigan) and Judge Harold M. Stephens of the court of appeals for the District of Columbia (Catholic, Utah), prominently into the discussion. The sectional consideration alone involved Thurman Arnold, assistant attorney general (Wyoming), Circuit Judge William Denham (California), Circuit Judge Sam Bratton (New Mexico) and Senators Schwellenbach (Washington) and Minton (Indiana).

Others mentioned included Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson, (New York), Senator Wagner (New York), Donald R. Richberg, Judges Samuel Rosenman and Ferdinand Pecora (New York), Dean Landis of the Harvard Law School, President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago, and Dean Lloyd K. Garrison of the University of Wisconsin Law School.

Justice Butler, born 73 years ago in a Minnesota log cabin, died in a hospital here at 4:14 a. m., after a three-month struggle against a bladder ailment. (Continued on Page Ten)

EX-PRESIDENT OF LOUISIANA U. TRIES SUICIDE

Dr. James M. Smith In Serious Condition
From Wound

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Dr. James Monroe Smith was in serious condition tonight with a wound which Sheriff Newman De Breton said was inflicted shortly before the former Louisiana State University president was to have started a long prison sentence.

Sheriff De Breton said the 51-year-old educator used a razor blade to sever an artery in his foot in his jail cell here. He was to have been taken to a state prison tomorrow to begin service of an 8-24 year sentence for misuse of university funds.

A jailer, bringing Smith's breakfast at 7:45 a. m., found him weak and bleeding in his cell bathtub. It was believed he had used a blade from his regular shaving equipment to cut the foot while on the bed and then had gotten into the water to ease the pain and prevent clotting.

He was taken to Our Lady of the Lake Sanitarium where he was given intravenous injections tonight. It was in this hospital that Senator Huey P. Long died after several transfusions—in 1935 from bullet wounds received in the nearby skyscraper revolt.

Barring complications, physicians expected Dr. Smith to recover. After disclosing the cutting, Sheriff De Breton said another suicide attempt was balked last July when a bottle of poison was intercepted while being smuggled to the prisoner in a bag which contained a carton of ice cream.

A week ago the ruddy-faced Smith, chosen by Long to head L.S.U. during a $13,000,000 building program, expressed a desire to serve out his prison terms and make retribution for his misdeeds that involved use of huge school funds for wheat market plunging.

Three political figures have committed suicide since the scandals broke June 25 when Smith resigned the school presidency and fled to Canada. More than 200 criminal charges have since been made against 86 persons.

In addition to his state sentence, Smith is under three concurrent, 30-month federal sentences for using the mails to defraud and income tax evasion.

Denies Guilty Plea To Accused Slayer

Hillsboro, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Henry Seago, 73-year-old blacksmith-farmer, tried unsuccessfully today to plead guilty to the charge of shooting George W. McNeese, 56, of Litchfield to death as he sat in his home the night of Oct. 21.

Seago, under indictment for murder as the result of the shooting and held in the county jail without bond, appeared in circuit court today to enter a plea of guilty to the charge.

Judge James J. Burnside declined to take the plea, however, saying he would appoint an attorney for Seago so the case could be given "more consideration."

McNeese was killed by a shotgun blast fired through a window. Seago admitted shooting McNeese because of a quarrel involving Mrs. Donna Higgins, 40, who lived with the slain man and his wife.

ALLEGED THEFT SUM IN KUHN'S TRIAL 'SLUMPS'

Accountant Admits
Error Of $4,000;
State Concludes

New York, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Acknowledgment of major error by an important witness—and a consequent sharp scaling down of the amount of money Fritz Kuhn is accused of having stolen from his German-American Bund—was made today by the state as it rested in the Bundsfuehrer's larceny trial.

Defense Attorney Peter L. F. Sabatino sought immediately to show that the Bund's "leadership principle" was such that Kuhn had unlimited power to handle the organization—and its money—as he chose.

He read into the record an application for membership in the Bund ostensibly made by Mrs. Virginia Cogswell, a nine-times-married matron sometimes called the "Georgia Peach."

The paper bore the phrase: "I recognize the leadership principle." State testimony had pictured Kuhn as having been friendly with Mrs. Cogswell but he once paid a $60 doctor bill for her, but this was the first indication of any direct connection she had with the Bund itself.

Accounting Error
After recalling Benjamin Blattner, an accountant for District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office, to testify that he had made a miscalculation involving nearly $4,000, the prosecution abandoned its attempt to show that Kuhn had illegally taken $5,441.

Instead, Assistant District Attorney Herman McCarthy then sought to (Continued on Page Ten)

Fourth Day Of Manteno Quiz Is Completed

Kankakee, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Five witnesses were reported to have told a special Kankakee county grand jury today that conditions were unsanitary and food poor, but that patients received good care at Manteno state hospital, where a typhoid epidemic took 52 lives.

The jurors completed the fourth day of their inquiry into the outbreak without giving any indication of what they would conclude hearing testimony. Their duty is to determine whether negligence on the part of authorities was responsible for the epidemic.

Doctor Steinberg
Chief of the day's witnesses was Dr. D. Louis Steinberg, assistant managing officer of the hospital since July 1. Others were Mrs. Mary Barrell, a nurse who worked a month in the hospital during the epidemic; Mrs. Grace Reynolds, a cook at the hospital; Miss Margaret Gilmore, a nurse regularly assigned to the institution; and Dr. O. A. Phipps, a physician at the village of Manteno.

Dr. Steinberg, it was learned, testified he knew nothing of periodic reports that the institution's water supply was contaminated. He came to the hospital 15 days before the first typhoid death occurred.

He said he was friendly with Dr. Ralph T. Hinton, suspended managing officer, but never was acquainted with the hospital chief before joining the staff. Dr. Steinberg was reported to have detailed various phases of his work to the jurors and to have told of the lack of help during the epidemic.

Outlines Study Of Pure Bacteriology

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The University of Notre Dame's ten-year study of a program of pure bacteriology which has resulted in the development of a germ-free process was outlined today by Prof. James A. Reyniers of the bacteriology department at a meeting of the nation's leading bacteriologists.

The conference, arranged for a discussion of microorganism and germ-free techniques, also is being attended by architects, engineers, sanitation experts, plant pathologists, medical men and microscopists.

It was pointed out that architects and engineers are particularly interested in the development of germ-free devices in the belief that those things eventually will be a part of every hospital which they will be called upon to design and build.

Prof. Reyniers, who has developed the devices for the creation of an artificial world in which life is maintained without any germs, explained at length the development of the machines which are used in the studies.

BIG AND HUNGRY

Morgan City, La., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Captain Mattis Vidos brought his shrimp trawler Lion into port today minus an anchor and solemnly explained.

"A shark struck it. Don't believe it myself but it's true anyway. A big fellow got the anchor as we put it over. Those rats are getting big and hungry in the Gulf."

Germany Seeks To Liberate Europe From Britain's Rule

Proclamation of Offensive Rather than Defensive War Signals Nazi Attitude to British-French Peace Rejection

Berlin, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Germany, an inspired announcement said today, "must liberate Europe from the unbearable yoke of British rule of might."

This proclamation of an offensive rather than a defensive war aim was the Reich's reply to British-French failure to accept King Leopold's and Queen Wilhelmina's mediation offer, authorized sources said.

The statement recalled a remark made by a high-ranking Nazi to newspaper men the week before Germany started her invasion of Poland Sept. 1.

Price For "Meddling"
"If England meddles in our affair with Poland," the Nazi said then, "the price will be destruction of the British empire."

For several weeks no statement of German war aims had been made as specific as that given foreign correspondents today. All German evening papers printed the declaration.

Previously the most said by Adolf Hitler in his Munich speech Nov. 9 when he declared "our aim is the security of our people and our living space in which we will not have anybody else meddle."

The press was unanimous in declaring that British world dominion must be destroyed.

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung declared England's "proclamation of our destruction as her war aim can, of course, be replied to only in kind."

A Belgian foreign office spokesman said that Germany's reply to the Belgian-Netherlands offer was received as "ending this phase of negotiations." He indicated Belgium at present contemplated no new move for peace.

(The German reply held that Britain and France already had turned the mediation offer down.)

Munitions Loan
As if to show the Reich means business in the war, newspapers announced that the Friedrich Krupp Company of Essen, Germany's largest munitions manufacturer, had floated a $18,000,000 loan for new construction work.

In addition announcement was made that repatriation of German soldiers from Estonia had been completed and that satisfactory progress was being made in bringing back Germans from Latvia.

WOMAN GIVES BLOOD TO HELP AILING CHILD, 7

Physician, Pathologist
Pessimistic Of Cure
For Rare Malady

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A woman who responded to a mother's nationwide appeal gave her blood today in an effort to save the life of seven-year-old Kathryn Fell, critically ill of an unusual blood disease.

In a 30-minute operation, physicians effected the transfusion of 100 cubic centimeters of blood from Mrs. Joseph Root, Jr., 56-year-old wife of a Westport, Conn., manufacturing executive. She was among more than 100 persons who volunteered aid.

The child has been fighting since last July against lymphatic leukemia—a malady involving a breakdown of the body's blood-making machinery. Physicians have said her case is hopeless, asserting no cure for the disease is known to medical science.

Although attending physicians said the transfusion was "effected successfully," they made no comment on whether they believed it would prove beneficial.

Mrs. Root offered to give her blood in the belief she had recovered from lymphatic leukemia with which she thought she was stricken 15 years ago. Prior to the transfusion, however, Dr. Joseph Fleitas, the child's physician, and Dr. Frank Lymph, German-town hospital pathologist, issued a statement saying that "in light of present day knowledge Mrs. Root's disease was inaccurately diagnosed."

"It is our opinion, as it has been in the beginning," they said, "that there is no known recovery from acute lymphatic leukemia."

They added that the transfusion was given at the insistence of the child's father, a bank clerk. He regarded it as "a last desperate effort" to save the girl's life. It was the 16th transfusion since she became ill.

STARLET'S MOTHER

Hollywood, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Starlet Judy Garland's mother, Mrs. Ethel Gumm, and William Gilmore, Santa Paula, Calif., rancher, said they will be married in Yuma, Ariz., tomorrow.

KILL AT SIGHT, ORDER IN HUNT FOR EX-CONVICT

Patrolmen "Gunning"
For Man Who Shot
Trooper

Harrisburg, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Superintendent Walter Williams of the Illinois highway police, personally directed a search for a gunman who shot and critically wounded state trooper Cecil Brokmyer today.

"Williams said that patrolmen were not going to let the gunman escape."

Roads throughout this area were blocked in the hunt for the fugitive, identified by Williams as William Shockley, 23, an ex-convict. Brokmyer and trooper Fred Holper had been seeing Shockley for questioning regarding several holdups.

Shooting At Garage
The shooting occurred last night at a garage in Carrier Mills, seven miles southeast of here. Glutius King, an attendant at the garage, shown a photograph of Shockley as the suspected assailant, said, "that's the man," police reported.

Brokmyer and Holper had gone into the garage to question a youth who was having the governor removed from a late-model automobile. As Brokmyer approached, the youth drew a gun and shot the patrolman below the heart, the bullet emerging from the back. Brokmyer fired one wild shot as he fell.

Holper was forced to withhold fire because of several bystanders who fled on foot. The car he left behind was identified as having been stolen in Centralia, Saturday.

The wounded trooper was brought here to a hospital, where it was reported he had only slight chance to recover. A physician said he was paralyzed from the waist down and a blood transfusion probably would be necessary.

GRIDDER'S EXPULSION BRINGS SCHOOL STRIKE

Wickenburg, Ariz., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Expulsion of a football player for whistling in study hall so angered 45 Wickenburg high school students today that they staged a sit down strike in front of the building.

Two hours later, school officials reluctantly said the offending whistler, Robert Echeverria, could remain in school. The pupils returned to their classes.

Johnny Rebs To See Premiere

Atlanta, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Fears of five "Johnny Rebs" in Georgia's home for Confederate soldiers that they would not see the world premiere of "Gone With the Wind" were banished today. They will be honored guests of Clark Gable.

M. Y. Griggs, who read Margaret Mitchell's 1,037-page novel unaltered, despite his 92 years, is eager to see how closely the picture follows the best-seller. He was in the battle of Atlanta and figures he ought to know the details.

Their eyes dimming, Griggs' comrades had the book read to them by students working on projects of the National Youth Administration.

"You bet we'll be there, uniforms, medals and all," chuckled J. R. Jones, 95, who was with General Joseph E. Johnston when he surrendered to General William Tecumseh Sherman at Durham, N. C.

"I was as close to them as from me to you," said the peppery veteran. "General Johnston gave Sherman a drink of liquor, I remember."

The old soldiers heard about thousands and thousands of requests for high-priced tickets to the premiere in the 2,051-seat (Loew's Grand) theater December 15 and they got worried. Then came the Gable invitation.

Posing for pictures, the "Rebels" drew straws "to see which one will get to take 'Scarlett O'Hara' to the big show."

The straw went to J. A. Skelton, who has seen only one movie in his 91 years—and that in a lively stable in Cobb county, where the battle of Kennesaw Mountain was fought. He allowed Scarlett was "a spirited gal, and we had plenty like her in those days." Excited over seeing another movie, soldier Skelton wanted to know how much longer he'd have to wait. J. C. Dodgen, 94, snapped to attention with a muzzle-loader while a comrade, J. T. Pittman, stood beside him for a photograph, and Jones said "you know what, they ought to send that picture over to Europe so they can see what kind of fighting men we've got and they'll let the United States alone."

The officials acquitted were George F. Benkhardt, Chevrolet zone manager of New York; M. E. Coyle of Oxford, Mich., vice president of General Motors; James C. Deane, August Freese and Nelson C. DeZendorf, vice presidents of General Motors in New York; Richard W. Grant of Dayton, O., General Motors vice president in charge of sales; Roy W. Hill, Chevrolet regional manager at Dallas, Tex.; W. E. Holler, Chevrolet sales manager at Birmingham, Mich.; W. F. Hufstader, Buick sales manager at Flint, Mich. (Continued on Page Ten)

British Tanker Sunk In Indian Ocean By Nazis

London, Nov. 16.—(AP)—The European war at sea reached the Indian Ocean today with the reported sinking of a British tanker off the east African coast by a German raider.

Dispatches from Capetown, Union of South Africa, told of the raider's attack on the 706-ton Africa Shell and said the captain was taken prisoner.

Some reports said a "warship" sank the British vessel but authoritative Capetown circles described the raider as an armed merchantman of about 10,000 tons.

Mozambique Channel
The ship went down 180 miles northeast of Lourenco Marques, Mozambique. This is the Mozambique channel, an arm of the Indian ocean between the Portuguese colony of Mozambique on the East Africa coast and the French island of Madagascar.

The German pocket-battleships Deutschland and Admiral Scheer, both 10,000-ton warships, have been at sea for months. Some reports have said the Admiral Scheer rounded Cape Horn after operations in the South Atlantic.

The sinking of the Africa Shell was the first report of operations by German raiders in or near the Indian Ocean. In the World War the Indian Ocean became one of the main theaters of operations of such vessels.

Springfield Sees Artillery Parade

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Like a victorious army returning from battle, the 123d field artillery of the Illinois National Guard paraded thru Springfield streets today.

Earlier the regiment made up of downstate Illinois companies engaged in the main skirmish of a theoretical battle to defend Springfield from an invading army pounding at the capital's very gates.

This contact occurred along highway Routes 66 and 24 north of Springfield. The artillerymen in theory build up these highways to halt the advance of the enemy's mechanized units bent on seizing highways and railroads between St. Louis and Indianapolis.

Actually no shots were fired. Participating in the maneuvers were about 80 men of the 58th brigade headquarters battery, a communication unit from Chicago.

Army officers umpiring the sham battle won't make a report before completion of the maneuvers tomorrow.

YOUTH HAS BAD TIME IN FEDERAL COURT

Kansas City, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Norman Sanford, 19, had a bad week in federal court.

Each of three district judges sentenced him to prison. The last Friday—15 years by Judge Merrill E. Otis for kidnapping and robbing a filling station operator.

Tuesday—Two years by Judge Albert L. Reeves for auto theft.

Today—Two years by Judge John Caslick Collet for auto theft.

The sentences will run consecutively.

THE "LAST" PANDA
Chicago Greets Strange
Oriental Animal

Chicago, Nov. 16.—(AP)—A crowd of several thousand persons turned out today to give a big welcome to a distinguished new citizen—the baby Giant Panda, probably the last of its kind to be allowed to emigrate from its China homeland.

The roly-poly black and white animal clown, which weighs about 80 pounds and is believed to be about a year old, is the gift of the Chicago Daily News to the Brookfield Zoo.

It is hoped by zoo officials that when this as yet unnamed panda grows up it will be a mate for Mei-Mei, the zoo's other panda. But such is the nature of pandas that they have to be several years old before their sex can be learned.

Chaperoned by Roy Scott, St. Louis explorer, the panda was brought from China and traveled by airplane, ship, and streamliner train. At a stop-over in Hollywood, it was a stellar attraction.

Well brushed and in merry mood the panda was greeted at the station by a crowd of several thousand.

DR. GORE GETS DEATH PENALTY; ASK NEW TRIAL

Victim's Father Says A
Lighter Penalty
Satisfactory

Benton, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—The father of Carl Chiosser, slain Benton attorney-publisher, said tonight he would have been satisfied with a "less extreme" penalty than the death sentence voted by a jury for the accused killer, Dr. George W. Gore, Sr.

Chiosser's father, Ewing Chiosser, and his brother, Steve, were present in the crowded courtroom when the sealed verdict of the jury of 10 men and two women was opened this morning.

In convicting Dr. Gore, the jurors rejected a defense contention that the 65-year-old prominent southern Illinois physician was "emotionally insane" when he shot and killed Chiosser in an alley off the public square last Sept. 25.

Son's Attorney
Conviction of Dr. Gore came a month after his son, George W. Gore, Jr., had been acquitted in the same courtroom of a charge that he shot and killed his stepmother, Mrs. Nancy Gore. At the time he was slain, Chiosser was the attorney for young Gore.

Dr. Gore, testifying in his own defense, said he heard his dead wife scream as Chiosser "started toward me. He had a gun." He said he remembered nothing after that, but recalled telling officers later that he killed Chiosser "to protect myself."

State witnesses testified that the physician stepped from a hiding place and fired four shots into Chiosser's back.

Dr. Gore accepted the jury's verdict without visible emotion but later, in the county jail, the knowledge that he faced the electric chair had a stunning effect and he was reported "taking it hard."

Nearly I. Glenn of defense counsel announced a motion for a new trial would be filed. Formal sentencing will await the action of Circuit Judge Blaine Huffman on the motion.

Dr. Gore was the husband of the former Nancy Threlkeld, who for three years was a nurse at Jacksonville State Hospital. Miss Threlkeld resigned from the local institution's staff in 1932 and went to Benton where she took the position of secretary to Dr. Gore. She married Dr. Gore after his first wife's death.

Mrs. Gore was mysteriously slain when she heard someone near the sleeping porch of the Gore home in Benton. She was shot down when she arose to investigate. Her step-son, George W. Gore Junior, was charged with her murder, but was freed of the charges in a trial which was recently concluded in Benton.

ASKS YACHT TRANSFER TO BRITISH REGISTRY

Washington, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Anthony Joseph Drexel, of the Philadelphia and New York social family, asked the maritime commission today to permit the transfer to British registry of his 338-ton steel yacht, Queen of Scots, for use as a hospital ship by the British Red Cross.

His application said the prospective British purchaser was M. Grahame White of Southampton, England.

POISON RAT LUNCH

Cleveland, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Republic Steel Corp. officials here said tonight they had been notified by company representatives of the death of Charles H. Elliott of Youngstown, O., Republic assistant vice president, in charge of operations, while in Buffalo on a business trip.

Tuscola, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—Farm Adviser John Q. Scott said today that 80,000 poison rat lures would be scattered on 270 farms in Douglas county Friday.

IS TECHNICALLY FREE; FEDERALS STILL ON CASE

Family Promises He Will Not Go Back To Old Habits

Baltimore, Nov. 16.—(AP)—"Scarface" Al Capone, ailing former Chicago gangland chief, entered a hospital here today, technically free after seven years in prison, but actually still under the surveillance of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Capone and three members of his family believed to be his wife, mother and a brother—slipped into Union Memorial Hospital shortly after noon. A few hours earlier Capone had been delivered at the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., where his formal release was effected.

Capone will be treated for paresis, a form of brain paralysis with which he became afflicted at Alcatraz federal prison where he served time for violation of the federal income tax laws.

Hospital officials declined to discuss the case but from Washington, Attorney General Murphy said Capone would be here for "at least three weeks" and after his discharge, planned to go to Miami, Fla.

Murphy said Capone and members of his family had assured the justice department that the former gang leader was "going straight and not going to get mixed up in illegal activities."

Murphy said three federal agents had been ordered to keep Capone under surveillance "because certain things have come to our attention." These included reports that Capone's physical condition, he indicated.

SERIAL STORY

5 WOULD KILL

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, Arnold Benthorpe named five persons who hate him as he waits for his murderer. His lack has run out. While he recalls his phenomenal business success, the door opens, the killer enters. Benthorpe recognizes his visitor, takes a desperate chance.

CHAPTER II

HUDDLED against the gatepost,

Patrolman Flynn had not missed the silver of light that filtered through the rain as Arnold Benthorpe peered out into the storm. For hours he had watched that window, steadily, throughout the night. He knew Arnold Benthorpe was in that room—waiting. "Poor fool," Flynn said to himself. "Him and all his money—and afraid that someone's going to get him. Sitting up there waiting. Cold and wet as they are, I'd rather be in Dan Flynn's shoes to-night than Arnold Benthorpe's."

He jumped, involuntarily, at the sudden flash of lightning and the clap of thunder that followed. He hunched his shoulders deeper into his raincoat, resumed his pacing back and forth before the gate.

A TAXICAB slid to a stop at the curb. The door opened and a young man's head emerged. "Officer! Oh, officer!" the young man called.

Flynn turned. "What do you want, at this time of the night? If you're drunk, you're disorderly and I'll—"

"It's not drunk I am, officer. We're looking for a minister. We want to get married."

"That's right, officer," the taxi Benthorpe paused, undecided.

"First place Helen and Joey would look," he said, half aloud. He stepped to the window, pulled back the drawn shade. Rain drummed unceasingly against the panes. A fresh, cool draft swept into the room as he raised the sash a few inches.

A flash of lightning revealed the dark-coated figure of a policeman, huddled against the gate. There was another in the garage, a third at the rear driveway, Benthorpe knew. Thunder shook the house, rattled the window.

The ticking of the clock above the fireplace echoed throughout the ensuing silence.

Only a few minutes more, Benthorpe thought.

There was yet one chance—only one—he would take it. Quickly he returned to the desk, turned the lamp shade so that the light fell more upon the closed door. He crumpled the paper in his hand, tossed it into the wastebasket. He opened a desk drawer, took out a revolver. The safety clicked. He replaced it, carefully leaving the drawer open.

Pulling his chair back from the circle of light, yet still within reach of the gun in the drawer, Arnold Benthorpe sat down, waited for his murderer.

HE could see the headlines—"BLOODY BENTHORPE MURDERED." That would be old Parker's sheet. They hated him, too. Fought his methods, tried to trap him. But never quite succeeded.

"BENTHORPE, FINANCIER, FOUND DEAD." Good old conservative Carter Smith. Wishy-washy. Afraid to call a spade a Illustrations by Ed Gunder.

"If you're going to write down our names, you'd better step into the cab, sir," the youth suggested.

"Here, climb in. I'll stand out on the curb. I'll turn on the light for you."

Flynn pulled his notebook out of a raincoat pocket, leaned, wet and dripping, into the cab. In the now. The older boy, Billy Watson, had challenged his right to sell papers on that corner. Arnold—his name was not Benthorpe then—had refused to fight, had run away in terror.

Another picture came to mind. Billy's face, disappearing beneath the waters of the river. Arnold had run screaming to the nearest policeman; men had dived into the river for Billy's body. The crowd praised Arnold—he had done all he could. Even Billy's mother was nice to him, after her hysterical crying had stopped.

They never found Billy's body. It was just as well. Someone might have wondered about those bruised knuckles—bruised as Arnold pounded Billy's fingers as he clung to the dock.

The papers would not tell that story tomorrow.

NO—there would be columns about Arnold Benthorpe's phenomenal rise in the business world. They would tell how dying stocks revived under his magical touch, how he pyramided his wealth into millions. There would be the story of his vast factories, his thousands of employees. His charities would be mentioned, and the scholarships his wealth had made possible.

There would be pictures, too, of Benthorpe—dark-haired, fiftyish, his cold, piercing eyes staring out from the lean hardness of his face. He hoped they would use that picture he had had made last month—the one the photographer said made him look like a dictator.

Helen's picture would be back in the papers again, too. The society editors would see that his marriage to Helen Alston, daughter of one of America's greatest motor truck manufacturers, would not be forgotten.

The gossip columnists had enjoyed a field day guessing the real facts behind the Alston-Benthorpe wedding—wondering how one of society's favorite debutantes could throwing a shaft of light on the tall, old man.

"Come right in, Mr. Alston," came the butler's voice. "Mrs. Benthorpe is in her rooms. She asked that you come up immediately. It's all right, officer."

The door closed. As the policeman returned to his post just now would ever solve. For years they had been speculating as to where Arnold Benthorpe got his stake. No one knew him when he first came to New York, armed with $50,000 and the determination to turn it into a million. No one knew—nor would ever know—the story of "Big Red."

They had met in Alaska. "Big Red" had come in with the Klondike rush, hunted his strike for 20 years. And he had found it—far inland, among unmaped mountains, "Big Red" had found his gold. Benthorpe—his name had been Benson then—learned of the mine when "Big Red" filed his claim. He had followed "Big Red" northward. He remembered "Big Red's" piteous cries as he left him, blind and dying in that forgotten valley.

He had taken "Big Red's" name—John Douglas—as well as his claim title and ore samples, until he had sold out to a mining company.

He had listed "Big Red" as one of the five—and "Big Red" was dead. He'd scratch off the name. No use blaming a murder on a dead man. Queer that he had imagined, even for an instant, that "Big Red" was alive.

He reached for the wastebasket.

"DON'T move, Benthorpe!"

The soft voice, almost a whisper, came from the half-open door.

"YOU!" Benthorpe gasped. The muzzle of a revolver shone in the light. The round, black hole held Benthorpe's hypnotized gaze.

"Bring your hands up. Keep away from the desk. You've been expecting me?"

Benthorpe did not answer. His head was still above the level of the desk. If he could fall forward, suddenly, he might beat the shot, reach his own gun. One more second—

Flame spouted from that black circle as Arnold Benthorpe took his last chance.

GOP Chairmen Take Action To Endorse 1940 Primary Slate

County Chairmen of 3rd Appellate Court District Start Ticket Move

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16.—(AP)—A group of Republican county chairmen from 28 central Illinois counties took their first official step today toward possible endorsement of a 1940 primary slate of candidates for governor and other state officers.

The chairmen, representing the Third Appellate Court District, adopted a resolution proposing that the Illinois Republican County Chairmen's Association "reserve the right" to pick such a slate.

The resolution said in part: "It is the sense of this Republican County Chairmen's Association in and for the Third Appellate Court District that the Republican County Chairmen's Association of Illinois as a whole, and not by any committee or officer thereof, reserve the right to report and recommend to the voters of this state for their consideration, a list of the ablest, most capable, and best qualified Republican candidates for the respective offices to which they aspire, to be nominated in the primary election to be held April 9, 1940."

Author of Proposal

Nobel G. Johnson of Paxton, chairman of the Third District group, said he was the author of the proposal, and predicted a similar resolution would be considered tomorrow by GOP county chairmen of the Second District meeting at Aurora.

The Fourth District chairmen were scheduled to meet Nov. 28 at Mt. Vernon.

The resolution was introduced at his request, Johnson said, by Chairman George Story of Tazewell county. Only two chairmen, whom he would not identify, opposed it, Johnson added.

Johnson explained final action on the controversial question of a county chairman's ticket would have to wait until the full state association meets, probably in January.

The county chairmen's organization picked a slate for the 1938 senatorial primary.

Hill Blackett, Republican national committeeman who addressed the meeting, said he did not take part in discussion of the resolution, but said he personally was "opposed to any slate-making."

Chairman A. K. Stiles of the state committee who was in Springfield but did not attend the chairmen's meeting, made no comment.

Equitable Distribution

Four Republican candidates for governor already have announced, and present indications are there may be big fields for Senator and other offices.

Johnson said the "main idea back of the resolution was to bring about an equitable geographical distribution of the candidates."

The chairmen also adopted a resolution urging that each section of the state have "its just share of such candidates." In other resolutions the chairmen:

Endorsed Blackett's plan for "formation of the Illinois Republican finance committee and its plan of operation x x which in effect is that a sufficient percentage of funds raised in Illinois be retained to adequately finance the affairs of the Republican party in this state."

Urged 1940 candidates "who do not in fact intend to be candidates" to "renounce such candidacies and announce their intention of serving the Republican party in whatever capacity they are best suited."

Gall B. Ranson, chairman of the Morgan County Republican Central Committee, attended the meeting at Springfield yesterday. Richard Y. Rowe, who has been mentioned as a possible candidate for secretary of state, also attended the meeting.

Jacksonville Man Named President Of Illinois ATA

L. Clyde Cooper Re-elected At Convention Held at Mattoon

L. Clyde Cooper, of Jacksonville, was re-elected president of the Illinois State Order, Anti-Thief association at the convention held in Mattoon Thursday. All other officers were also re-elected. They are: Vice-president, Albert Miller, Nokomis; secretary, Sidney M. Hobbs, Edinburg; treasurer, H. B. Austin, Springfield; marshal, Maurice Farnham, Peoria.

Mr. Cooper and Chester A. Thompson, also of the local sub-order, were chosen delegates to the national convention. Pans was selected as the place for the 1940 convention, winning over Litchfield and Alton. The convention, which was in session two days, had one of the largest attendances of recent years.

The annual report of the secretary showed that the Jacksonville sub-order was still the largest in the state, having a membership of 300. The Arenzville sub-order remained in second place with a membership of 133.

Sidney M. Holden, the secretary, made a report to the convention on thievery from members during the past 24 years. The report showed that only five horses have been stolen in the past 24 years, all of which were recovered.

During the same period 170 automobiles with a value of $101,340 were stolen and 132 recovered. Chickens stolen had a value of $14,875.40, all of which were recovered.

The total value of property stolen from members over the 24 year period was $109,510.10, with $32,765.22 recovered.

The total number of thieves caught thru the efforts of the A.T.A. was 912 with 654 of them being convicted.

Springfield Car In Two Accidents Here

Hold Youth After Collisions Occur Here Thursday Night

A youth giving his name as George Raymond Crowley, and his address as 106 North Fifth street, Springfield, Ill., was being held at the local police station last night for investigation after he is said to have been involved in two automobile accidents here shortly after nine o'clock last night. Crowley was driving a car which bore a license number issued to W. L. Lehmann of Springfield, police said.

The machine Crowley was driving is said to have first collided with a machine driven by A. L. Durham at 917 West Lafayette avenue. After the mishap Durham told the police he followed the Crowley car to East State street at the corner of Clark avenue, where the Springfield machine collided with a car driven by George Newman. Both the Springfield car and the Newman machines stopped, and both were found to have had damaged fenders.

Police were notified and Crowley was taken to the police station for questioning. The officers said the Springfield youth is deaf and that he was accompanied by other youths, who left the car after the second accident.

The address will be followed by special music by the MacMurray College Choir under the direction of Miss Ann Bonaparte.

Following the dinner meeting a reception will be held in the lounge of Ann Rutledge hall. The reception is scheduled to start at 9:30. The business meetings of the convention will be held at MacMurray College throughout the morning on Saturday. Visits will be made to the institutions of Jacksonville on Saturday afternoon.

Preview of Play Given for Class

Members of the cast of "Our Town" presented scenes from that play before a meeting of the Married People's class of Grace church yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. F. Ross. The ladies of the club showed great interest in the brief preview given the play.

The scene presented was from act two, called by playwright Thornton Wilder "Love and Marriage," and showed the conversation George and Emily had in Mr. Morgan's drug store when they first found that they were in love. John Self of Jacksonville plays George, and Miss Peggy Steinhoff plays the role of Emily.

The other members of the Hilltop Players who attended the meeting were Bobb Gonsberg, Dwight Nelson, and Lora Gardner. Mr. Donahoe played the part of the stage manager.

Last evening the same group presented that scene before the meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club. Miss Grace Tickle was in charge of the program.

Illinois College Grid Hop, Banquet Will Be Saturday

Social Events Tomorrow To Climax Successful I. C. Football Season

Students and alumni of Illinois College honor the success of the Blueboy football team Saturday, the events to be the annual banquet at 6:15 in the evening, and the Grid Hop, beginning at nine o'clock.

Kenneth "Spike" Wilson, athletic director at the School for the Deaf, has been secured as the principal speaker for the banquet program. Dr. H. J. Stratton of the I. C. faculty will serve as toastmaster. The banquet and program will be held at Baxter hall on the college campus. The dance will be in the old gym.

In addition to the address by Coach Wilson and introductions and responses from the members of the grid team, the banquet program will include several entertainment features. The Hilltop Players, directed by Ned Donahoe, are slated to stage a skit during the event and Bill Clark will read a poem.

Dr. Stratton, known to the students for his keen wit as an informal speaker, also served as toastmaster at the annual banquet last year. The committee in charge of arrangements has also secured several other interesting features for the program, including several musical selections.

For the dance, one of the gala social events of the college year, the I.C. social committee, headed by Charles Meneses, has announced George Fries as the maestro. The Fries dance band is from Alton and has appeared a number of times at social events in this vicinity.

During the dance a special program honoring the senior members of the football squad will be given. The varsity players and coaches will be special guests at the Grid Hop.

RURAL RHYTHM Scott County School Has A Novel Band

It isn't often that a speaker is rewarded by having his audience entertain him. But yesterday, pupils of Liberty school in Scott county, east of Winchester, decided such procedure would be the correct thing to do after hearing a talk on newspapers.

The teacher, Loretta E. Glossop, opened a large box, distributed a variety of interesting instruments and the boys and girls took their places at the front of the room, one boy acting as conductor—the batten and all.

Five or six of the smaller children sat on the floor with pairs of colored sticks, one boy had a triangle, a girl used a resounding woodbox with snare drum stick, others had tambourines, bells and clappers. With the teacher at the piano, they gave a skillful rhythmic interpretation of two musical numbers.

The visiting speaker—almost by himself—sat back in the empty seats and thoroughly enjoyed the concert. He missed being an audience of one, however, because one place was missing in the Rhythm Band. And the little chap who, the night before, had broken his arm in two places, looked just a bit disappointed at having to be the "audience" twice.

Men And Boys Of Westminster Have Banquet Program

Rev. Dan Crane Speaks On Readjustments Needed In Modern Life

On Wednesday evening a fine crowd of men and boys of the Westminster Presbyterian church were regaled with a chicken and pumpkin pie dinner, the occasion being the annual father and son program. The tables presented an attractive sight with the white linen and fall flowers. The ladies of the church served the meal directed by Mrs. Marshall Miller, while the Sunday school members, headed by Miss Helen Russell. After a Thanksgiving song by the diners, the blessing was asked by Dr. F. B. Oxtoby. During the meal the guests were photographed.

Rev. W. C. Meeker acted as toastmaster, and led in the song-fest while the tables were cleared. The men introduced their guests, their sons, other boys, and college students. Henry Kamm extended an invitation to the men to be present at the Brotherhood Sunday morning, and Dyke McCoole spoke for the College class, while another spoke for the High School groups.

Then the men sang "Howdy-do" to the Rev. Dan Crane and Harry Williams who had been introduced as the performers for the evening, and who left nothing undone to provide a delightful entertainment for young and old alike. Besides a charming program of Scotch numbers Mr. Crane spoke on the necessity of "Readjustment" to the swift and moving times in which we find ourselves today. He illustrated his thought by contrasting the old model T automobile with the modern streamlined speedster. Referring to war in other lands the speaker expressed the hope that the United States might not be drawn into it. The havoc of war was described from his own experiences in France during the World War.

That war, he said, made fatalities, cynics and atheists of many boys in the trenches, and another war will do the same thing. The only thing that can save us, said Mr. Crane, is what saved me the gospel of the great God through Jesus Christ our Savior.

Mr. Crane made a strong plea that the men not only return to the church, but to what the church stands for—high ideals, pure life, brotherhood, love for God and all mankind. In closing his musical program he sang "I Love America," commenting on the fact that it was composed in America by a Jew, Irving Berlin, and now was being sung by a Scotchman, a naturalized American. That is the true spirit of readjustment, he said, and if all mankind will cultivate this brotherly spirit it will do much to save them from the havoc of war.

Red Cross Trained 2,000,000 Persons In First Aid Work

Eighty-eight Students, Adults Complete Course in Community

In a program designed to reduce the distressing number of accidental deaths, the American Red Cross swelled its number of qualified first aiders over the 2,000,000 mark during the past year throughout the country. Dr. George L. Drennan, chairman of first aid for the Morgan county chapter, said yesterday.

Since January 1, 1939 Dr. Drennan stated that eighty-eight students and interested adults in this community have completed the standard Red Cross first aid course and two students the advanced course in Red Cross first aid. There are at the present time twenty-one lay instructors in Red Cross first aid, who are eligible to conduct the junior, standard and advanced Red Cross first aid courses.

Twenty-seven students in the rural schools of this county passed their junior Red Cross first aid tests this year. Dr. Drennan said.

At the present time Dr. Drennan is conducting a first aid class of thirty-seven members composed of teachers in the county and city, nurses and Boy and Girl Scout leaders, who are taking the standard and lay instructors course in Red Cross first aid.

Dr. Drennan pointed out that Red Cross instructors trained 355,110 men and women in first aid for the year ending June 30. He said that increased facilities for teaching methods of treating injured had been provided by the organization to meet the inroads of accidental death which each year claims approximately 100,000 lives.

"From 1910 to 1935, the Red Cross trained a million persons in first aid," the local chairman declared. "Increased need for qualified persons to fight accidental death and to prevent serious injury, however, resulted in broadening the program. In the four years that followed, another million were trained, covering a same ground that previously had taken 25 years."

"This year needs are even greater. Farm accidents, accidental deaths in the home and on the highway have created new problems for a reserve of civilians equipped to render emergency service."

"In addition to training firemen, police, CCC and WPA workers, and tens of thousands of civilians," Dr. Drennan said, "the Red Cross last year established several hundred highway first aid stations throughout the country, bringing the total number in operation to 5,362. Highway stations are manned by Red Cross trained first aiders, forming part of a nation-wide network organized to provide emergency facilities within call of injured motorists."

There are three Red Cross highway stations in operation in Morgan county at the present time. Dr. Drennan said, one at the John Weiland service station at Alexander, one located at the Jacob Steinmetz cafe, Woodson, and the other at the Stonercrest service station, on Route 36 a mile west of the city. Each station is equipped with a cot, first aid kit and leg splint.
